WOUND A LITTLE IRRITATED.

PRESIDENT SHOWING RAPID IMPROVEMENT.

He Changes His Position in Bed, but Does Not Try to Sit Up.

Will Begin Taking Food Naturally Today—His Relatives and Friends Leaving—Can be Signing State Papers Saturday.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 10.—The condition of the President today is such that he will be able to take food naturally today, his relatives and friends leaving today, and he can be signing state papers Saturday.

He still has some trouble with his bowels, but his physicians are confident that he will be able to take food naturally today. The President's condition is such that he will be able to take food naturally today, his relatives and friends leaving today, and he can be signing state papers Saturday.

Each of them, with the exception of Dr. Rixey, who did not leave the President's bedside, placed himself squarely in the line of duty. The President's condition is such that he will be able to take food naturally today, his relatives and friends leaving today, and he can be signing state papers Saturday.

Of course, we will all feel easier when a week has passed," said Dr. McBurney, the dean of the corps. "We would like to see every door locked and doubt locked out, but the danger from possible complications is now very remote."

The little piece of lead in the muscles of the back is giving the physicians no concern whatever. Unless it should prove troublesome to the President later on, he will probably carry this little piece of lead in his back for the rest of his life.

The Vice-President, members of the Cabinet, Senator Hanna and other distinguished friends of the President, who have remained here to wait the issue accepted the verdict of the physicians today as practically conclusive, and there was an exodus of those who considered their presence no longer necessary.

IRRITATION OF THE SKIN.

Partial Reopening of One of President McKinley's Wounds Necessary.

(NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

MILBURN HOUSE (Buffalo) Sept. 10.—The following bulletin was issued by the President's physicians at 10:30 p.m.:

The condition of the President is unchanged in all important particulars. Temperature, 100.6; pulse, 114; respiration, 28.

When the operation was done on Friday last, it was noted that the bullet had carried with it a short distance beneath the skin a fragment of the President's coat.

The President's physicians have been impressed with his remarkable recuperative powers, and the rapidity of his improvement. Ordinarily, an incision for such an operation as was performed upon the Chief Executive should have been made within three weeks, but in the President's case he may be strong enough to be moved a little sooner.

Within the sick room many evidences of the President's improvement were apparent. He himself began to show confidence in his ability to care for himself, and from time to time he took the precaution to ask if he might be permitted to move, but today he changed his position on his own volition without difficulty.

UNIVERSAL INTEREST IN STRICKEN CHIEF.

One Long Line of Eager Inquiry Across the United States.

Popular Grief and Apprehension Followed by the Cry of the People for Swift Retribution on Anarchists.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coming across the continent I had ample opportunity to note how universal and how deep is the interest felt among all classes of people in the condition of the stricken President, lying now sorely wounded in Buffalo. At every station on the long route from Los Angeles to Chicago the passengers eagerly inquired for the latest bulletin, and where there was no telegraph office citizens of the little towns anxiously appealed to the passengers, asking if they had any news from Buffalo. The interest was widespread; the anxiety universal, and sorrow seemed to pervade every heart.

Here in Chicago the excitement immediately following the hideous crime has measurably subsided, but the feeling is no less deep, intense and determined. Any man who openly expresses sympathy for the assassin's infamous deed endangers his personal safety, and some heads have already been smashed with general approval. The news of the capture of Emma Goldman, the mischievous anarchist devil, comes at the moment this dispatch is being written. I leave for Buffalo this afternoon, and will advise The Times by wire from the city where the wounded President, soldier and first citizen lies upon his bed of pain.

Chicago has been through the fire of anarchy. It met the bomb throwers with the might of the law and sent forth of them to the gallows. Public sentiment was so vehement in its appeal for justice that it could not be ignored. It was the most inspiring triumph of law and order over the forces of rapine and disorder in the whole annals of the courts. It was not a time for parleying over legal technicalities. The cry of "free speech" and "free press" did not daunt the courts. There was no foolish waste of words over the question as to who actually threw the murderous bomb in the Haymarket riot. Chicago made up its mind to strangle anarchy. It selected four of the principal dissemblers of anarchy, Epes, Fischer, Engel and Parsons, men who had advocated murder and the destruction of all government, and hanged them November 11, 1887. In this act Chicago had the approval and laudation of the civilized world.

I find Chicago has not changed its opinion of anarchy since the Haymarket riots. It regards the red-headed demons as a greater menace to society and the government than ever. The attempted murder of the President has revived the popular indignation against a system that permits anarchy to land on our shores and breed destruction.

EMMA IS IN A DILEMMA.

Miss Goldman Charged With Conspiracy.

Cleverly Captured at Chicago Yesterday.

Knows Czolgosz Slightly, but Does not Preach His Kind of Anarchy.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Emma Goldman, the highest priestess of anarchy, whose speeches fired the brains of the President, was arrested here yesterday. She was taken to the office of the Chief of Police, but she disclaimed all knowledge of Czolgosz and his crime, save that she admitted having met him here July 12.

"Do you know that your words are what Czolgosz claims stirred him to shoot the President?" she was asked. "I do not," she replied. "I never advocated violence. I scarcely know the man. I was leaving for Rochester, where I was to lecture, when Czolgosz had a few words with me. He said he had heard me lecture at some memorial hall in Cleveland last May, and that he wanted to know me. He knew I was in Chicago and looked me up. I scarcely remember anything about him, save that his complexion is light."

"Then how do you know that this man is the one who tried to kill the President?"

"Oh," she replied with a shrug of her shoulders. "I guessed that from what the newspapers say."

"The police are not entirely satisfied with Miss Goldman's story. When Capt. Schuetzler and Detective Heris discovered her at the home of one Norris, at No. 1300 North Rockwell street, she denied her identity."

"Hello, Miss Goldman," said the captain, and he entered the parlor. "You are glad to see me?"

"I am not Miss Goldman. I'm a Swedish woman and my name is Lena Larson," answered the anarchist, endeavoring to imitate a Swedish dialect. "All right, I speak Swedish myself," said the police officer, and he asked a few questions in the Norse tongue.

THE GAME UP.

Miss Goldman did not answer him, affecting to misunderstand. Detective Heris then said he found a pen-pal address with the name "Emma Goldman" engraved on it.

"What does this mean?" asked Capt. Schuetzler, holding the inscribed penholder.

"It means that the game is up," she said.

She then admitted her identity fully and accompanied the officer. The woman was hurried to the police chief's office. Her apartment was searched, and the description went out by the Associated Press yesterday.

She was taken to the police station, where she was held in a cell. She was charged with conspiracy to assassinate the President.

HER BRAND OF ANARCHY.

The prisoner's manner thus far had been growing more and more excited, although she made an evident effort to control herself. In this she finally succeeded, and launched into a tirade against the teachings of anarchy. She declared that anarchy did not mean the destruction of the state, but the destruction of the individual.

"I work against the system, and education is my watchword," she said. "It was early last June when I came to Chicago to visit the Isaks family. I was met by a man who told me that he had made Goldman disappear and hated the world."

"What have you done to help him?"

"Well," she answered slowly, "I have been looking for men to go to the courts, providing the courts would allow us to furnish them."

"Why did you deny your identity?" the captain asked.

"Oh, as to that, I was not quite ready to show myself; my friends were still in jail and I wanted to do something for them. However, you got me, but what is there to it? They had me once in New York because I had been in the office of the Chief of Police, but she disclaimed all knowledge of Czolgosz and his crime, save that she admitted having met him here July 12."

CZOLGOSZ CONFESSES TO A CONSPIRACY.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

BUFFALO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Leon F. Czolgosz has confessed to the police that his attempt upon the life of the President was the result of a conspiracy in which many besides himself had part. So far as can be learned, Czolgosz has refused to mention any names except that of Emma Goldman, but papers are in existence, which, if they can be discovered, will lay bare the entire conspiracy, and will result in wholesale arrests, followed by prosecution.

In his confession, Czolgosz has told of his attempt to destroy written evidence of the conspiracy. He said that the time did not permit him to burn the papers, as he had desired. Czolgosz said that if he were to meet the President at the Temple of Music at the Pan-American Exposition, he had to be in line early.

Before leaving his room in Nowak's hotel, he gathered together all his papers, taking them from his pockets, from his valise and from the drawers of his table. All were bound together in one package, which he concealed beneath his coat. Czolgosz says that he made a circuitous and aimless trip about the city, and that at some point, which he cannot now describe, he came upon an open sewer. Into this sewer he cast his papers.

Superintendent Bull has asked him to take detectives to the spot, but he has said he could not find his way there. Inch by inch, the sewers of this city are being searched, and if such a thing is possible, these papers will be recovered. But if the search is fruitless, it is not at all improbable that Czolgosz can be prevailed upon to reveal all of the knowledge that is now in his possession.

On authoritative information, it can be said that, within the last ten weeks, Emma Goldman has visited each one of the six anarchist organizations. She has been in Buffalo three times since July 12, having left the city the last time four days before the attempted assassination.

As to the question of whether or not Czolgosz was inspired by the thought of the President's visit to Buffalo, he said that he was not. He said that he was inspired by the thought of the President's visit to Buffalo, he said that he was not.

As to the question of whether or not Czolgosz was inspired by the thought of the President's visit to Buffalo, he said that he was not. He said that he was inspired by the thought of the President's visit to Buffalo, he said that he was not.

He says that she departed for Chicago Saturday night, after still another conference with St. Louis friends at Tony Paster's, but says that she may have left the train before reaching Chicago.

One of the two letters which Miss Goldman received at the St. Louis postoffice Saturday was from New York. It contained a check from a wholesale house for which Miss Goldman was traveling.

When Emma Goldman came into the rendezvous Saturday morning, Kurzenknebe showed her the newspapers relating the circumstances of the shooting of the President, and stating that she was accused of being implicated in the crime. She laughed aloud.

"Let's see them prove what they allege," she said, "I have a notion to go straight to one of the newspaper offices," she is quoted as saying, "or to the police and ask them what they can do for me. I may go to Buffalo and bring it through there. Why, what can they do? They can prove nothing."

NORRIS GAVE HER SHELTER.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Charles G. Norris, at whose home Miss Goldman was taken into custody, and who was later arrested, is not the type of man generally associated with the word anarchist. He is well-built, good-looking, neat, even dandy in appearance, and is decidedly intelligent. He is a Canadian by birth, but has become a citizen of this country.

When questioned by one of the police officers, Norris disclaimed any knowledge of any plot to assassinate the President, and said that he knew nothing whatever of Czolgosz. When asked how Miss Goldman came to be an inmate of his place, he replied that he had, on a previous occasion, invited her to make her home there whenever she was in Chicago.

In reply to further questioning, he said that he had attended Miss Goldman's lectures merely to study anarchism from a sociological standpoint. Wishing to know more of Miss Goldman, he sought her acquaintance merely because he wished further knowledge of the principles she professed.

When she came to your house, did you not know that she was wanted by the police?" he was asked.

"Well, she said when she came to the house that she had come to assist in the rendering of the Chicago police, and I supposed she would do so when she got ready."

"Do you know," asked the Chief of Police, "that she was not going to surrender to the police at all? Don't you know that she was preparing to leave Chicago?"

"No, I don't," was the reply. "She told me she was going to give herself up, and I had no reason to doubt her."

"I don't believe one word of that," said Chief O'Neill, as Norris was led away. "The woman was preparing to run away, as we can positively show, and of course, this fellow must have known it. I shall hold him in custody and have him informed of the conspiracy to kill the President."

It was through a telegram sent by Miss Goldman to Albert H. Verrill, a brother of P. C. Verrill, that the police first got on the trail of Miss Goldman.

THEIR DETROIT HOME.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—From 1874 to 1875 the family of Leon Czolgosz lived in Detroit, and former neighbors assert that Leon was born here in the summer of 1874.

Research of old city directories resulted in locating the Czolgosz family at No. 141 Benton street, in 1874. In 1875, the family moved to No. 141 Benton street, in 1874. In 1875, the family moved to No. 141 Benton street, in 1874.

in Kansas City two years ago. These men had regular meetings in the rear of a barber shop kept by Maggio, and it is said that the "removal" of the President was the result of the principal subject of discussion.

Maggio and his associates, all of whom were Italian, were disciples of Emma Goldman, for whom Maggio had a sort of veneration. It was from her, it is said, that Maggio imbibed his anarchist ideas. One of Maggio's associates still in the city is known to the police, but has not been arrested.

RAISED CAIN AT ABEL'S.

CHICAGO POLICE TRACE PLOT.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The police believe the Chicago anarchists plotted to kill the President last year, when it was thought he was coming to the Grand Army encampment. This and the conspiracy which so recently almost resulted in the President's death have reason to think were planned at the home of Mrs. Martha Abel, at No. 1300 North Rockwell street.

Mrs. Abel is an anarchist, and both her husbands were, also. The first was arrested in the riots of '06. They were divorced, and Mrs. Abel, who is a printer, who was compelled to leave San Francisco because of his connection with a freemason paper published there. Abel has not been working for some time, and several meetings have been held recently, but for the last few days the house has been kept exceedingly quiet, and during the day the curtains have been closely drawn.

Another man who has been in the habit of visiting the Abel household, who, within a year, boarded there, was an anarchist named Fitzner. He now lives on the West Side. He was a regular attendant at the meetings of the Chicago anarchists, and it is said that he was the time when remarks were made to McKimley was afraid to come to Chicago, to review the G.A.R. parade, and that had he come he would have been killed.

While Miss Goldman was here in July, she and Isak, now in jail, attended meetings at Mrs. Abel's, and the police hope to prove that arrangements were then made to have the President killed. They have not yet proved that McKimley attended the meetings. They have information that at least two who attended the meetings were heard afterward to say that McKimley had been killed had he come here at that time.

ISAK'S FIERY VISION.

SEATTLE, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abraham Isak, under arrest in Chicago, and Emma Goldman planned the destruction of San Francisco at that city in April, 1906. Blumer, a Seattle workman, who roomed over the apartments occupied by the Isak family, is responsible for this statement. He said:

"I heard Isak and Mrs. Isak say that freedom could only come from anarchy, and anarchy could only come from the assassination of prominent men and the destruction of property. I heard a Russian barber named Herman say he would like to see San Francisco leveled by dynamite."

"I frequently heard Isak say San Francisco, with its many wooden buildings, would be an excellent place in which to begin a new world."

"In such a city," said Isak, "I would greatly aid dynamite."

Blumer says Isak printed a pamphlet found on the street in San Francisco in 1906, in which Isak said that the city might be destroyed.

that reports from the interior national and commercial banks of California, received today show a prosperity which has almost never been equaled in the history of the state. SHIPMENTS FALL OFF. DECREASE FROM LAST YEAR. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—A statement of fruit shipments issued by the Southern Pacific Company shows that for the season ended September 1, 42,015 carloads were shipped, against 47,081 for the corresponding period of last year, a decrease of 5,066 carloads.

The difference is still more marked when it is stated that the cars are now only loaded with twelve tons, whereas those of last year carried thirteen.

The reason of this is the falling off this year in the crops of cherries, early peaches and apricots.

SHAFFER EMPOWERED TO SETTLE STRIKE.

General Executive Board Pulls Out and Requires Him to Do the Best He Can With Magnates.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M. PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Sept. 10.—President Shaffer and his advisers in the general office of the Amalgamated Association hold the power, by authority of the general executive board of the organization, to settle the steel strike. Shaffer and his advisers apparently allowed today to lapse after this authority was vested in them, without coming to any settlement.

It is said that President Shaffer is seeking to reopen direct negotiations with the United States Steel Corporation in the hope of getting better terms than those submitted to the Amalgamated Association executive board.

AROUND THE WORKS. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—There was no attempt made today to resume operations at the National Tube Works. The men operating the light department were unable to get to the works today, and it is probable the plant will be in darkness tonight. The men who were brought over by the strikers did not leave their homes. Except at the Huey street entrance to the mill, there was no disorder. A few hordes of Hungarians assembled there, forced them to remain on the outside.

one of the Secret Service agents. He asked if the people were up, and, when told that nobody had yet come from the room, he decided not to ask admission. He was shown the early morning bulletin and said when he read it: "Good. The country will be better." He went down to the Buffalo Club, promising to return later. Secretary of the Navy Long is now the only member of the Cabinet who has not been here since the shooting.

The result of the morning conference was made known about 9 o'clock, as the doctors came from the house, although it was some time after that that the bulletin appeared. The faces of the doctors clearly indicated their satisfaction at the condition of affairs. As Dr. Hensel Park came to his carriage, he paused long enough to give a general survey of the conditions prevailing.

"The condition of the President this morning is entirely satisfactory," said he. "The bulletin will state this, and it sums up the situation. The President spent the most comfortable night that he has had since the shooting. He slept well, and he was awake, he was cheerful and even chatty. He is not receiving any nourishment through except by enemas. This is an altogether natural incident of the case at this stage."

"Do you regard the President as entirely out of danger?" Dr. Park was asked.

"I do not want to go that far. What can be said is that unless there are unexpected complications, we expect him to recover."

"Have you considered the prospect of his removal?"

"No, it is too early for that; but when he is moved, he probably will go to Washington."

DR. PARK REFERRED to the fact that the bulletins were most conservative, and gave results such as the medical fraternity would be expected to pass upon the case of any citizen.

"It would be well to have it stated," he added, "that the President is not being deprived of the benefits of private citizenship, he is being treated exactly as any other citizen would be, and is getting the benefit of it. We view the case just as any other case of a man who might be similarly afflicted."

Dr. Park's latter statement will explain the fact that the official bulletins are based on scientific principles as they are applicable alike to all cases of surgery.

Dr. Herman Myer was the next of the consulting physicians to come from the house. He was followed by Dr. Wadsworth, and they walked down the street together to the question of newspaper men. Dr. Myer said: "The President is doing splendidly, and he is 'out of the woods.' If I may say so, that way."

"Yes," chimed in Dr. Wadsworth, "and he is plenty of daylight behind him. Dr. Myer said further: 'I have never been really optimistic, because I do not like to prejudice serious cases, but now that we are safe, I am saying what I believe to be the truth. The President's condition warrants the statement that he is on the way to quick recovery.'"

Dr. Wadsworth said: "We have believed throughout that the President had a chance of recovery. Now I deem it to say that the chance is a possibility of recovery is very slight. His temperature is splendid and his pulse getting normal."

POSSIBILITIES OF DANGER.

Dr. McBurney was in high spirits as he walked away from the residence early after the other physicians. His face was wreathed in smiles.

"The President is out of danger," he said, "and we will know better in a week has gone by. But his improvement is so marked, his symptoms are so good that we are safe in saying the public that he will recover. Blood-poisoning might still develop, but the chances are remote. As a peritonitis, I consider that the danger from inflammation of the stomach is not an abscess form about the bullet."

Yes, of course, the bullet may not clean, but if it does, we can easily remove it."

If the President continues to improve, and his convalescence is not checked, how soon will the secondary ration for the extraction of the bullet be performed?"

"Never," replied the surgeon. "That is of lead in the muscles of the back, and it is not necessary to remove it. It gives him trouble, an operation will shock his head. 'Why should we ask that? To satisfy our curiosity? That would be its only purpose.'"

McBurney's supreme confidence in the President's recovery was evident in his manner and bearing. He felt that the President was safe, and he was not at all concerned about the President's condition.

He then said a week should be before definite assurance could be given. This morning the President's condition was so eminently satisfactory that he felt safe in his answer to the question of the President's condition, and that the President was on the way to recovery.

"I am satisfied, and I believe in Niagara Falls today to be the right place."

These cheerful words, the President turned into the grounds of the residence of Mr. Sprague.

Secretary Root is staying, to the good news to the Secret Service.

ASKS FOR THE PAPERS.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. 1. MILBURN HOUSE, Sept. 10.—The desk asked for the papers again, and also asked when he would be allowed to sit up. With the exception of the President's immediate family, and the Secret Service, no one else has been admitted to the President's room.

VOICES AT GOOD NEWS.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. 1. MILBURN HOUSE, Sept. 10.—Vice-President Roosevelt read with eager dispatch from the Milburn house, telling of the President's improvement. When he had finished, he said his eyes, and with his hands clasped, and with his face beaming, he said: "There! Didn't I tell you that the President was safe?"

Willcox announced that the Vice-President had been urged, in view of the President's improvement, to decline the invitation with reluctance. He said: "I do not even though I am assured of the President's convalescence, that it is entirely proper for me to be in any of the festivities. I am entirely refrained from going, being entertained during my leave. I will continue that policy."

IN Attempting to Disperse Them Gendarmes Were Routed, With Cheers for Anarchy and Revolution.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. 1. LONDON, Sept. 10.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A special dispatch from Paris says at Montecarlo-Les-Mines some hundreds of Reservists, who were returning in uniform today from the army maneuvers, entered the town singing the "Internationale" and other army songs. A force of gendarmes attempted to disperse the Reservists, but the latter fixed bayonets and charged on the gendarmes, with cheers for anarchy and revolution. The gendarmes were scattered. The soldiers then held a mass meeting and passed a resolution in favor of a revolution.

GOVERNMENT'S PARSIMONY.

HANDICAPS SECRET SERVICE.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M. 1. CINCINNATI (O.) Sept. 10.—Clyde M. Allen, editor of the International Police Journal, the organ of the Nation Association of Chiefs of Police of the United States and Canada, said today:

"The fact that anarchy is rampant in the United States today is due to the parsimony of the government. It is being kept in fact among police officers that the Secret Service is so badly handicapped by lack of funds that it cannot keep track of counterfeits, to say nothing of watching the movements of every anarchist."

"Long before President McKinley fell a victim to an anarchist, the members of the Association of Chiefs of Police of the United States and Canada realized the necessity of suppressing anarchy. With that in view, it has been planned to ask the next session of Congress to establish a national bureau of identification at Washington under the supervision of the government to keep track of the movements of every anarchist."

"Affiliations will be had with similar bureaus in other countries, many of which have already requested such an interchange of information. The call for action by Maj. Sylvester, president of the association, but a part of the plan to bring all the police of the United States, Canada and the world into close touch."

PROSECUTION OF THE "REDS."

Attorney-General Knox Preparing Plans.

Wholesale Arrests May Be Forthcoming.

Punishment of Czolgosz is Less Important Than That of His Associates.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Atty.-Gen. Knox has returned to Washington to prepare for the prosecution of anarchists who are implicated in the plot to assassinate the President. They are to be prosecuted under the law which makes it a crime to conspire to deprive any citizen of a constitutional right. Yesterday Solicitor-General Richardson Olney outlined how Czolgosz could be prosecuted under the Federal law as a conspirator. This morning Atty.-Gen. Knox admitted that this was true, but said he hardly saw the necessity for it, because punishment for crime of conspiracy was no greater than the State of New York provided for an assault with intent to kill.

"So far as Czolgosz is concerned, there need be no anxiety, and the Cabinet has given him little attention," said Atty.-Gen. Knox to the Times correspondent today. "He was captured immediately after the shooting, and we can take our own time and way of determining what shall be done to him. At present, I fall to see how we can do better than permit the State authorities to dispose of him in the usual way. I do not say this is the conclusion of the Cabinet officers. At present it seems the reasonable view to take."

It is apparent to all that any punishment which can be visited on Czolgosz is entirely inadequate. That he would be true if he could be tried, convicted and executed. His punishment would have been little meaning as a lesson or deterrent to the anarchists. They would glory in his death, and in their miserable way try to glorify it. Obviously the important thing to do is to punish the anarchists, not the poor, wretched agency of the murderous methods. We would like to punish all connected with the crime, and not be satisfied with one cowardly victim."

An Attorney-General said he felt it would be improper for him to make further statements at this time. It is obvious, however, that attention is being given to laws against conspiracy, and the preparation to make cases against the conspirators.

It is apparent to all that any punishment which can be visited on Czolgosz is entirely inadequate. That he would be true if he could be tried, convicted and executed. OHIO SOCIETY'S LOVE AND INDIGNATION.

RESOLUTIONS ON PRESIDENT
M'KINLEY AND HIS ASSAILANT.

Munson Suggests That the Society more deeply the cowardly and cruel attempt upon the life of President McKinley. As a citizen of the State of New York, from their State pride, which causes them to feel an especial interest in the President, many of them are of opinion that the assassin should be treated as a private citizen, or who stood shoulder to shoulder with him on field of battle, and who have enjoyed his friendship almost highest honor and distinction has been his.

The society had an unusually large meeting last night, at which the Hall took much notice of the national calamity.

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted by Secretary J. H. Phillips, and were unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That the nations of the civilized world have been shocked by the news of the attempted assassination of President McKinley, and that the representative of domestic purity, national patriotism, diplomatic intelligence and high moral character, who has been elected and beloved President of the United States; and whereas, that result (but for the assassination) was nearly accomplished by a miserable miscreant and cowardly assassin, who, in the eyes of the civilized and poisonous serpents are seeking to destroy by subtle, treacherous and violent means the best government known to man; and whereas, God in His mercy has thus far answered the millions of tearful and anxious supplications which have been made for the President's recovery, and at the same time deepened and strengthened the nation's patriotism and universally aroused its righteous indignation and contempt for the spirit of anarchy,

Therefore, be it resolved, by this Society of Native Ohionians of Southern California, that we here and now express our sympathy and affection to our stricken President and his devoted wife, in this their hour of pain and grief, and that we unite with the civilized world in the earnest prayer that the God of Nations may restore to health and vigor, him, whom the world delights to honor and to love. And that wisdom and purpose may be given to the Congress of this United States to the end that the most radical and stringent laws may be speedily enacted which shall result in the early extermination of this malignant, dangerous and lawless element from our beloved country.

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Ohio Society of Southern California, and that an engrossed

GENTLEST OF PRESIDENTS.
Capt. F. J. Cressy arose to second the motion to adopt the resolutions. In the course of his remarks he said: "When we read that the gentlest of Presidents, after having battled with questions that required statesmanship of the highest order, had been stricken down by a cowardly assassin, a heavy fog of grief surrounded us. He was a brave and loyal soldier, ready to go where the bullets flew thickest. This is the man whom tonight we would honor."

A LUSTROUS LIFE.

"Words of mine," said Judge D. Allen, "cannot add to the luster of the man who lies stricken by the hand of an assassin. His record tells its own story. His life speaks louder than the words of an humble citizen. We believe he will survive, and during his career will stamp out every vestige of damnable anarchy from America and the world."

BEGIN AT HOME.

"It occurs to me that it might be proper for this society to suggest, to the authorities of this city that if there is to be any real peace, it must be secured by the removal of the cause of the trouble."

"If any man be found here in Los Angeles who shall associate with anarchists," he continued, "arrest him and put him behind the bars. Why should our public parks be filled with

"This society should put its stamp of approval upon the efforts to remove from this city this class of self-styled anarchists. They may disclaim murder, but by their fruits we shall know them. They are against organized society, and I simply want to suggest that we hold up the hands of the constituted authorities if they lift them up to rid us of every form of anarchy."

WANTED STRONGER WORD.

There was a lady in the audience who seemed fearful of notoriety, but her feelings got the better of her.

There was one word in the resolution that failed to meet her approval. The vote seemed about to be taken, so mustering up all her courage, she jumped up and said: "I move to change the word 'expulsion' to 'extermination.'"

She couldn't have said more if she had wished. There was a roar of applause and seconds to the motion, and Mrs. Ida E. Carpenter dropped into her chair the heroine of the evening.

The change was unanimously agreed to, and the resolution so passed.

THE SOCIAL END.

Pleasant music was rendered by Mrs. Heller, Miss Bach and Miss Catton following the adoption of the resolutions, and an hour was spent in a social way.

the American people in the first colonial experiment, the success of the ultimate outcome was to be foreseen. Under Gov. Allen's direction, the broad foundations of civic rule were laid, but it remains for Gov. Hunt's administration to work out in detail the new system of government. The most important economic need of the island at the present time is the opening of the American market for Porto Rican coffee.

THE PRESS AND THE CRIME.

Comment Called Forth by the Murderous Attack on the President at Buffalo.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HEARST ROASTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Bulletin publishes the following from Washington:

Eastern papers simply say Hearst and his yellow journalism alive for their part in inciting anarchy which led to the attempted assassination of President McKinley. Yesterday Hearst gave notice that "when this distressing crime" was over he would attack the New York Press, which attacked the Journal for printing anarchy editorials.

"We have not to deal only with yellow journalism in panic, terror, boycott and bankruptcy. That remarkable institution attempts a metamorphosis over night. It is seeking to escape disguised as a clergyman from the poor wretches and hired assassins in this incident, yet for five years it has been conspiring, with every ignorant rascal and every criminal, to bring about the President's life, with every known contrivance for the incitement of popular hatred and contempt. Now it has undertaken the enormous task of quoting psalms and making prayers for the President's recovery."

The school board of Butler, O., has offered a bonus for the homeliest teacher in Ohio to take charge of the primary department. It is said that Ohio girls hardly know whether to take this as a joke or to get mad about it.

It appears that California has a few anarchists; some of whom live not over a day's travel from Los Angeles. The vermin should be "cast out and trodden under the foot of man."

No wonder the "boys in blue" at the National Grand Army encampment do not feel so enthusiastic as usual, while one of their number lies stricken down by the bullet of an assassin.

The signers of the Chinese protocol were given a dinner at Peking by the German Minister. They certainly deserved it. It is said that the German Minister, for finally coming to a head, took the Chinese to the hands of the professional politicians, by doing their duty as American citizens at the primaries. The "common people" are certainly in the majority, and could run things to suit themselves, if they would only take the trouble, and would be united on any particular subject. If they are not satisfied with either of the present political parties, then they can get to work and form another party. What they say "goes," if they make their voices heard at the polls. Should they, at the next election, declare for a socialist form of government, a socialist government it would be. To do this, however, they must devote the moderate amount of time necessary to perform their political duties as citizens of a free republic, from the primary to the election booth, and they must not sell their votes on election day, either for a couple of dollars, or for the promise of a job, or for any other inducement. In short, if they will only act as worthy and wide-awake citizens of the freest nation the sun ever shone upon, they can have just what they like, for the asking.

Such being the case, how entirely absurd and illogical it is for men to put in their time denouncing a condition of affairs which it is entirely within their power to change, if they so desire.

THE MOST DANGEROUS ANARCHISTS.

One good result has been achieved by the cowardly attempt of the wretch, Colquhoun, to murder the President. The entire nation has been aroused to the necessity of adopting stringent measures for the suppression of anarchy, through the expulsion of the whole vile brood of anarchistic assassins and murderers. If the American people could take a vote upon the question today, there would undoubtedly be a majority of not less than nine to one in favor of driving out of the country every person who confesses that he is an anarchist. It is to be regretted that the vote cannot be immediately taken, and that the public verdict which would certainly be rendered cannot be at once put into execution. But, now that the public conscience has been aroused, more stringent laws, both State and national, will surely be enacted in the near future for the suppression of these vermin that infest society.

The most dangerous anarchist is not by any means the vile and deluded wretch who conceives it to be his "duty" to assassinate Presidents or other rulers. Such curs are dangerous as the mad dog is dangerous, but they are not the head and front of the offending. They are merely the instruments by which the dastardly work is done, and not the directing force. The most dangerous anarchists are those who teach the damnable doctrines which incite weak and narrow-minded men to deeds of violence and murder, while they, themselves, keep well out of danger. The men who do the vile work of these murderous propagandists should not escape punishment; but the heaviest measure of punishment should fall upon those who are really responsible for the crimes of their miserable dupes. They are the source and fount of all the mischief.

To hear some of these anarchistic hypocrites decant upon the beauties of their faith an unsophisticated person might be led to suppose that they are the most inoffensive persons in the world. The better educated among them put forth some specious arguments well calculated to deceive the ignorant and superficial. Some of them talk merely of "passive resistance" to the alleged wrongs of government; but in the same breath they denounce all law, all government, and all officers charged with the enforcement of law and the maintenance of government. Though their lips may and in condemnation of the dastardly act by which his priceless life was snuffed.

The assassination of the great and good Lincoln, who is now numbered with the martyrs, made no profounder and sadder impression on the people of the United States than the more recent attempt on the life of McKinley has created. Not a whisper or a breath has been heard among rational people anywhere in excuse or palliation of the crime. The most intense partisan opposed to the policy of the President united with the friends of his supporters in expressions of the deepest regret and commiseration, and also in denunciation of the wretch who puffed in any event to meet the assassin's doom.

Of course the law must determine the fate of the miserable marauder who does not and cannot deny his guilt. His fellow semi-lunatics are the only approvers of his deed. What to do with that class is a problem that confronts all civilized governments. That their secret organizations ought to be suppressed is evident, for they are treasonable and murderous. They must not be stamped out by lawless acts of an exasperated people, for that is a dangerous expedient. Law should be framed to meet the evil in a lawful way. (Deseret Evening News.)

What the Assassination Signifies.

What is the leading thought aroused by the assassination of the President? It is that anarchism and anarchists should be stamped out. They are responsible for the crime.

The thought which soles in this hour of the country's great grief is that Americans lack conviction in their religion, religion or condition, respect and honor their President. And so far from any of them, even to the number of those who stand ready to make any sacrifice in his personal behalf which occasion may demand.

Personally, McKinley is a noble character. He is an exemplar of all that is highest and best in our citizenship. He is a type of American of which every American in the land may well feel proud. (Hickson Mail.)

Suppression of the Outlaws.

The cowardly and brutal shooting of President McKinley during a reception at the Buffalo Exposition yesterday afternoon is a crime of the most heinous character. It is a crime of the most heinous character. It is a crime of the most heinous character.

One of the Common People.

President McKinley is one of the common people, raised to the position by the suffrages of his fellow-citizens. The people have come to love him for the upright and unselfish character of his private life, and to honor him for his well-balanced, conservative statesmanship, which has stood the test of peace and war. That such a man should have been singled out for the assassin's bullet is incredible and horrible beyond human belief. (Riverside Press.)

Not a Ray of God-Light.

A man who could deliberately plan and attempt the assassination of President McKinley, a man who could make the rational human being superior to the brute. There is not in him a ray of the God-light that sparks the soul and elevates the mind. He is a creature of the lower world, a creature of the lower world, a creature of the lower world.

Why not, Mr. Not?

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(To the Editor of the Times:) Will you permit a correspondent of your valuable paper to offer a suggestion about the consistent (7) future policy of the "Factionally Borrowed and Promoted of Colored Ministry sheet," otherwise the case, why not, in view of the offer made by the San Francisco Examiner during the present strike in San Francisco, to "pay all expenses incurred in prosecuting any officer of the San Francisco police force, for using force in the streets, or for the breaking of breaking strikers, and the murderous assaults of their hoodlum sympathizers." Will the Examiner be good enough to employ the best legal talent to defend its agent, and most unappealing pupil, Colquhoun, for doing as he claimed he did, and as the San Francisco Examiner were supposed to do "their duty"?

What Sawdust Contains.

By the dry distillation of sawdust all the distillation products of wood are obtained, and this manufacture can be conducted as an adjunct to the production of wood in a way to insure a profit. The products obtained are gas, wood alcohol, turpentine, and other valuable products. The sawdust industry is one of the most important in the lumber trade.

Endeared to the Masses.

President William McKinley possesses the love and respect of the people of the great country. His nobility, his kindly disposition, his calm and gentlemanly deportment, his devotion to his duty, and his readiness to meet his fellow-citizens on common ground have endeared him to the masses, and friend and foe in politics join in their admiration of the man.

RANKEST ANARCHY.

POLICEMAN PASQUAL HIRIART

will without doubt be suspended from the Police Department today because of his alleged treason to the United States and to the President.

It is said that Hiriart has several times since the attempted assassination of the President, asserted in the presence of witnesses that he is glad of the shooting, and that McKinley ought to have been killed a long time ago.

It is alleged that Hiriart first made this assertion in a phonograph store on West First street, the evening of the day the President was shot, and that he has several times repeated the statement since that time, and openly intimated that he is in sympathy with the would-be assassin.

The matter was brought to the at tention of Chief of Police Egan soon after the first statement was made by the patrolman, and he ordered an im mediate investigation.

Detective was put on the trail of Hiriart to ascertain if the reported treason was true. The detective fol lowed the patrolman, and several times

it is alleged, he heard him make re marks to the effect that he is glad of the shooting, and that McKinley should have been killed a long time ago.

The detective made a detailed re port of his investigation to the Chief of Police, and on this report Hiriart will be temporarily suspended, pending action on the part of the Board of Po lice Commissioners.

Hiriart, according to the report in the hands of the Chief of Police, not only gloried in the attempted assas ination of the President, but asserted:

"Just what the policeman means by this statement is not known, but the intention seems to be to show that the basement for $195 was accepted. It was the lowest bid.

Bert C. Lewis was appointed a special officer to act at the Bank of America, and Officers J. A. Miller and H. C. Walker were granted thirty days' leave of absence without pay.

On motion of Mr. Walker, the "Ideal" pistol holster was adopted as the official holster of the department. This holster was invented by the Hon. Phillips of the local department, and is now in use in several cities. In San Francisco each member of the department is required to buy one of these holsters. The pocket holster has a spring attachment that prevents the gun from being pulled out, and also acts as a trigger guard. Another make of the holster, which is worn with a belt, has an extension contrivance, so that the pistol can be held and used as a rifle.

Some amusement was caused yesterday by a communication received by Councilman Bowen which charged city officials with drinking at the violation of the law at a Spanish restaurant belonging to Madame Getters at No. 1023 Avenue 21 in East Los Angeles. The communication stated that the restaurant was without any license and the Police Chief with making an investigation of the premises.

The Chief stated that he has several times visited this restaurant, but never obtained any incriminating evidence. It was the belief of Chief Elton that no license is required to sell native wines. To this statement Mr. Bowen took exception and upon an examination of the city ordinance it was found that the exception only extends to the manufacture of the home product. A state law which protected the sale of such wines, Mr. Bowen says, was declared unconstitutional some time ago.

LABOR DAY BEER.

Exception has been taken by temperance workers to the free distribution of beer from the brewery floats in the Labor Day parade and the matter may be called to the attention of the Police Commission. A communication has been filed with the City Clerk, signed by John S. Gorman, George H. Loring, and L. A. Swan, which reads as follows:

We, the committee, representing the temperance workers, wish to call the attention of your honorable body to a scene in the parade on Labor Day and protest against the recurrence of similar scenes on the streets of our city.

On that occasion a wagon filled with men, drinking beer freely and loudly, passed through the city streets, and a lavish hand, passed through the streets, which were lined on either side with women and children. The men following the wagon and receiving samples of the beer.

In the name of decency and good morals and sound public policy, your petitioners protest against the brewers' parade on Labor Day, and request your honorable body to take action to prevent the recurrence of such scenes on the streets of our city.

TAX RATE TO MOUNT PRETTY HIGH UP.

The County Board of Education has made many teachers happy by re-negating certificates.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ASKS COUNTY FOR EXHIBIT MONEY.

The Chamber of Commerce is still for the Supervisors for $10,000 for mining expedition purposes in St. Louis.

Frank Hudson's Jail Plans Awarded First Prize—Eisen and Wyman Win Second Place—Capt. Cross's Petition for Electric Franchise Turned Down.

Mayor P. W. Hughes yesterday declared that the City Council would pass a new law within three weeks if the judges were kept in court. He also denied one application for a restaurant liquor license.

Taxes for the coming year promise to be pretty stiff, as far as the county is concerned. This matter of the annual levy the Board of Supervisors has been considering much of late, and from present conditions, it looks as if the rate would be about $1.60, with an additional 10 cents for road purposes. This, of course, is the rate outside of incorporated towns and cities. The rate last year was $1.32. The difference of about 7 cents this year is accounted for by the fact that the last Legislature passed a law which increased the expense of county officers $24,000 and provided for primary election expenses of $22,000. Furthermore, the Supervisors have been asked to pay for the loss of last year's revenue of about $40,000, provided the Supreme Court maintains the validity of a recent law which aims to prevent the county from levying a license tax on saloons doing business within municipal incorporation. And, again, a new jail, if one is built, is contingent upon the tax levy, for the Supervisors are determined to build a new jail.

The tax rate will not be fixed, however, until the third Monday in September, when the board is doing some comprehensive thinking.

EXPOSITION MONEY.

One of the extra calls for county funds, made possible by the last Legislature, was $10,000 for the purpose of setting aside each year for exposition purposes, in the way of attractive bait to draw capital into the county. Heretofore the expense of such exhibits has been largely borne by the leading business enterprises of Los Angeles, even as the expense of the last exposition, the Pan-American Exposition, is being maintained, with but the slight aid of a few hundred dollars from the Imperial Valley and the Colorado River.

The next big show in the United States is to be held in St. Louis in 1904. To urge a levy of $10,000, as prescribed by law, for this prospective exposition, several prominent members of the Chamber of Commerce waited upon the Supervisors yesterday and the matter was vigorously presented by A. B. Stinson, president of the P. Q. Story and J. S. Stinson.

They all thought that inasmuch as this exhibit is a benefit to the county, the county should contribute to it. Every dollar expended thus in this county would be a dollar to the county.

It is time, said Mr. Stinson, "that the county should contribute to the exposition, and equalized upon all. Even the humblest worker should be able to see the exposition, and the county should contribute to it."

The Chamber of Commerce brings with it a capital of $10,000, which is to be expended in the county. The county should contribute to it, and equalized upon all.

disagreeable controversy has obtained over this water, and although no legal proceedings were ever instituted to settle the matter, the water of the trouble culminated last April in the shooting of Thori with a double-barreled shotgun, which was shot at him.

It happened on a bright Sunday morning. Early that day the water had been shut off from the Fulkerson ranch and a named McKinney, who dropped in on Thori to talk him about it. Thori, picking up a gun, started for the name again, following close behind McKinney. When Thori was about eight or ten yards distant from the turn-gate, round a dark and wooded turn in the trail, someone ordered him to halt five times. McKinney, who was armed, then promptly shot Thori through the chest and he fell. He was wounded in the mouth, the left arm and thumb. For a long time Thori thought he had been shot by McKinney. But Hughes at once admitted to the peace officers that he himself had done the shooting and McKinney was released. They were both on the way to the police station when Thori, who was stable about McKinney, Hughes said: "You don't want McKinney. You want me."

The defense of Hughes will be that he had no intent to murder Thori, and that McKinney was the one who shot Thori. The defense of McKinney will be that he was acting in self-defense.

The trial will be resumed this morning.

Sept. 10.—(From The Times Resident Correspondent.) C. E. Alwood, a man about 35 years of age, was arrested here yesterday on the charge of passing a check on the First National Bank of Pasadena. The check was for $40. According to a circular which is in the hands of the police, Alwood defrauded a bank at Heidelberg of the tube of oil in the same manner, and has been operating in various parts of the country.The Chief believes that Alwood is one of the smoothest of swindlers. He is a well-groomed, well-dressed man of 30 years, with a manner that would be worth money to a bunco man.
He attempted to pass a draft on here, and was arrested upon suspicion of being one of the Bankers' Protective association of California, which has been on his trail for some time. He is believed to be proprietor of Hotel Al-wood of Tempe, Ariz., and when arrested he attempted to secure a matter of passport to go north, where he said he could procure money. His story was a bit flimsy, however, and he will be held until tomorrow, when a matter from Pasadena is expected to come for him.Alwood objected mildly to being moved in the City Jail, which lacks the accommodations of the hotels, and in different parts of the country.

Pattern Makers' League Attempt to Drive Certain Non-Leaguers Out of Denver by Threats and Violence.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) DENVER, Sept. 10.—(From The Times Resident Correspondent.) The Pattern Makers' League of North America, is under arrest in this city on charges of kidnaping and highway robbery. It is a secret organization of the kidnapping of C. W.
Walters, a pattern maker, last Saturday night. Walters was forcibly seized by half a dozen men, thrown into a covered wagon and driven ten miles into the country. All his clothing was taken from him, and he was threatened with instant death. After his clothes were returned to him he was struck across the back eighteen times with a rod.Walters charges that the abductors robbed him of his watch and $65, but says that the watch was returned to him. He charges that a pistol had been forced to drive himself and W. J.
Hudson out of the city, and that Wright led him into the trap set for him.The public carriage drivers, if given their choice of ordinances proposed, would choose one licensing followers of their craft, in preference to the one which the city contemplates passing.
Restricting their use of the streets.
Some of the hackmen maintain that driving in winter months, when trade is good, carries them from out of town come here and cut rates. This is hard on the regular drivers, because they work the year round and try to keep rates uniform. They think that local men should pay a small license and that out-of-town hackmen should pay more.The Afro-American League has issued the following to the colored people of Pasadena: "Believing as Christians people that God hears and answers the prayers of those who trust in Him, we invite you on assembling at our respective places for prayer on Wednesday evening, as is your custom, to offer special prayer to our heavenly Father and his beloved Son, Jesus Christ, and his wife to perfect health." The notice is signed by Frank Prince, president; James Morton, secretary, of the Afro-American League.Misses Edith and Agnes Claypoole were chosen today by the trustees of ceed Dr. Edward W. Claypoole as instructors in theology and geology in the school. Dr. Claypoole died several weeks ago at Long Beach. His two daughters, who are twins, have been studied with him and taught in Pomona College. They are well known in this city. The class work will be divided between them.The ten-year-old daughter of Mr.

was taken to a narrow escape from losing the sight of one eye today. A small boy shot her with an air gun, the bullet striking about a quarter of an inch from the eye, making an ugly wound.Sam Lee of the First laundry was arrested today, for leaving his horse it after an unsuccessful attempt to

UNDER DISCUSSION.LEGALITY QUESTIONED BY SOME IN SANTA MONICA.Two Young Men Out Fishing Nearly Caught in the Briny Deep When Their Boat Capsized—Buffalo Head Out of Sight.SANTA MONICA, Sept. 10.—(From The Times Resident Correspondent.) A quiet investigation is being made by parties interested into the legality of the franchise held by the electric company over the right of way from Strand street to the town limits on the south. As related in the ordinance, published April 24, the franchise is granted for a private right of way for the greater part of the distance.
This was a concession from Kinney & Dudley and, of course, the privilege granted to the electric company by the city will naturally expire when the twenty-three months' special permit runs out. But as the special permit was illegally granted and cannot therefore be considered in force, the franchise could be annulled if any person were to bring a suit against the Board of Trustees. Some who are interested in the matter seem to think that as the right of way is a private one, the electric people could not be disturbed, but this is not so. Although a private right of way was secured, the franchise is a public matter and will be treated as such.The Ocean Park franchise has come to be a valuable, owing to recent moves on the part of electric-road promoters and builders, that the people here are beginning to think that it should be made an instrument to swell the public treasury by several thousand dollars, it is believed.BOAT CAPSIZED.
Two young Ocean Park men went out this morning in a boat to catch fish. It is not recorded whether they were very near catching them, but the very near catching them, but the boat when they attempted to change the ballast from one side of the boat to the other, the boat capsized and the boys clung to the bottom of the boat and called lustily for help. They were about a half-mile from shore, and fortunately for them a passing boat attracted attention. G. D. Snyder, who was one of the first to discover their predicament, went out in a boat and rescued them.BUFFALO HEAD GONE.
D. M. Nelius, a painter and taxidermist, with a shop on Third street, ran away last week with a highly-prized head belonging to Mrs.
Crisie Hanford. This is the second time the head has been stolen from the complaint sworn to by Mrs.
Hanford before Justice Guidinger.
Nelius is still at large, and is wanted by the Constable, who is looking for him. If the story told is true, Nelius is very anxious to get out of town.When Mr. Hanford died, his head was eight years ago, he left several valuable objects, including a head of a predicament, the head of a dead animal was mounted, the head of a dead piece to be made when it was finished.
Last week there were still in his possession several heads, one of which which in value was an exceptionally high one. The head of a dead animal was mounted, the head of a dead piece to be made when it was finished.SANTA MONICA BREVITIES.

AVALON, Sept. 10.—(From The Times Resident Correspondent.) The disappearance of W. H. Arenal's row boat simultaneously with the escape of a Whittier boy was accepted as proof that they had gone together. A pilot was sent out to look for the boat, but it was a mistake. The boat was picked up by a sailboat five miles out to sea yesterday afternoon and restored to the owner. It had gone adrift in some manner. The boy has not been returned, but was given something to eat by a camper about 8 o'clock last

IN LONG BEACH.
HELD FOR A HEARING SATURDAY
UNDER HEAVY BONDS.Reported to Have Offered to Compromise With Kempley—Could Not Show That He Ever Had Twenty-nine Thousand Dollars—Legal Quirk.LONG BEACH, Sept. 10.—(From The Times Resident Correspondent.) Dr.
Orin L. Woodworth was brought from Los Angeles this afternoon by a constable to be arraigned before Justice Hall on the charge of robbery.Woodworth had gone to the city early this morning, and returned to Long Beach with her brother and went immediately to the court and apparently did not notice the curious crowd that had gathered at the Southeast corner of the court. The hearing was concluded Woodworth was allowed to visit his tent, accompanied by a constable.In default of $10,000 bail Woodworth was ordered committed to the County Jail, as he was unable to furnish that amount.When Woodworth and the officers arrived at the courtroom it was crowded with spectators. The prisoner and Miss Mary Woodworth, his sister, were rattling in front of the Justice's desks. A brief consultation between Woodworth and his sister occurred. During the proceedings the sister remained beside him."State your name," said Justice Hall.
"Orin L. Woodworth," responded the prisoner."I have a complaint here which I will read to you," said the court.
Woodworth indicated with a motion of his head that he was listening and the Justice read the document, in which John Kempley charges Woodworth with the big robbery.After the reading of the complaint Woodworth arose, and, folding his arms, said: "In my present condition I am not able to stand examination immediately." Here his words became indistinct and he was told to sit down.
The hearing was set for Saturday at 10 a.m.At his tent Woodworth talked with his sister and aged father and ate a hearty dinner. Then he was taken back to the courtroom, where he was in close consultation with a United States Secret Service agent.Woodworth shows the mental strain which he has undergone. He tries to indistinctly answer the questions of the Justice, but when he is asked to act in a different manner. Woodworth positively refuses to talk to reporter.It has been reported that Woodworth had offered to compromise with Mr.
Kempley, but that the latter had refused to accept the offer. The train coming from Redwood City, Woodworth, it is said, would agree to return to Kempley the deed to the Iowa land and give him all he had if Kempley would try to help him out of this trouble.It is understood that Kempley, in order to draw facts from Woodworth, he asked him to show where he had ever had $25,000 in his possession at any time, or to furnish bank books to show that he had it or any other amount on deposit in any bank. This Woodworth could not do in a satisfactory manner, and Kempley refused to desist from his offer.LOCAL CAPITAL GOES

CREEK BONDED.The Keystone Adds Another Strike
of Importance—Shasta's New Copper Camp—Last Chasico Mine Changes Hands—Stock Quotations.Three more of Arizona's valuable copper claims have been bonded, and local investors supplied the necessary capital.The property is situated at the head of Mineral Creek, about eighteen miles northwest of Globe, and has attracted attention several times the past few months on account of important discoveries of rich ore. On one of the claims a tunnel was sent in 200 feet below the surface, and a body of ore was disclosed that averaged almost 30 per cent. copper. From the vein, which varied from a few inches to three feet and more, considerable metal was extracted.The bond, which names $50,000 as the consideration, was negotiated by N. S.
Berray, who has just paid $10,000 down.
It is expected to be forthcoming before March 1.It is also reported that Mr. Berray has secured an option on the Cross Valley, three in number, which are from which twenty sacks of rich ore is being taken daily.KEYSTONE'S LATEST FIND.
The report comes from Southern Arizona that an important strike of ore was made last week in the Keystone mine, owned by Finletter & Harvey.
The find was made in the lower tunnel, which is in 220 feet, 200 feet below the surface. The ledge unearthed is about three feet wide and the payment is in 220 feet, 200 feet below the surface. The ledge unearthed
is about three feet wide and the payment is in 220 feet, 200 feet below the surface.In the middle tunnel, sixty-five feet below the lower one, the output of ore is increasing. A waste has been started from the middle tunnel to connect with the lower drift. At present the shipment from the property is five carloads a month.NEW COPPER CAMP.
"Shasta county will soon open up a new copper camp, and it will be on the north bank of Put River," said F. C. Whitting yesterday.The field has been prospected enough to determine there are good indications that copper will be found in considerable quantities, but before many days the search will be on in earnest. A company has been organized, largely with local capital, and it has been decided to commence active operations just as soon as machinery can be taken out. The new field will be known as the Shasta Creek country.LAST CHANCE CHANGES HANDS.
The final papers in the sale of the Last Chance mine and millsite in the Grand Cañon of Arizona have been filed, and the has been turned over to the new owners, syndicate headed by Henry T. Barbour. The property was sold for $35,000, and under the terms of agreement must be paid for within the next eighteen months. The mine is to be worked to the limit.SAN FRANCISCO MINING STOCKS.

ARGONAUT RETURNS FROM CAPE HOME TO CLAIM BRIDE.Happy Culmination of Love Affair of Long Standing—Well-known Los Angeles Couple Quietly Married in San Francisco.The Times is advised by telegraph of the marriage of William Slawson and Miss Ella J. Severance, both of this city, in San Francisco, yesterday. The wedding is the happy culmination of an engagement of several years standing.The bride and groom are both well known in this city, the former being a sister of E. D. Severance, C. E., and the latter a mining man of wide acquaintance. The consummation of the match is not without romance.Mr. Slawson is a typical prospector of the Southwest, and like most of his class has had many ups and downs in his career. A native of Northern Ohio and possessed of good education and stern qualities, he emigrated to the arid Southwest in early manhood, where he chased his fortune over many a shimmering plain and rugged mountain range. He has prospected extensively through New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, California and the border states of Mexico. Often he has had a fortune within his grasp, but he never despaired. With undaunted courage, he took up his pick and shovel after each successive failure, and pushed into the wilderness again to try his luck in new fields.The indomitable prospector endured many hardships while pursuing his dream of instant fortune. Several years ago, with a few companions, he made a voyage down the Colorado River in a small sloop from Yuma, on a mining expedition, and was shipwrecked in the Gulf of California, near Guaymas. The voyagers lost all of their water and food trouble, and were compelled to make their way back to Yuma, on foot, a distance of a few hundred miles, and would have perished of thirst and hunger, but for timely assistance rendered them by roving bands of Cocopa Indians whom they encountered before they reached the mouth of the Colorado.Soon after this Mr. Slawson had an other terrible adventure in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, where he crossed on foot, in the dead of winter, while returning from a prospecting trip in Southern Nevada, with a lone companion. Both became snow blind while crossing the range, and Slawson's companion broke a leg by stepping into a crevice. Although barely able to see where he trod and suffering intense weariness and pain, Slawson carried his crippled comrade on his back for two or three days until they reachedIN GOOD COMPANY.

Refuses to Ratify Agreement of His Ministers With Lord Lansdowne in London.(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) LONDON, Sept. 10.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Tangier correspondent of the Times says:
The Sultan declines to give effect to the convention agreed to between his plenipotentiaries and Lord Lansdowne in London last June. Letters have been received permitting the exportation of potatoes and other vegetables, the shipping of which was formerly not allowed, but this formed only one clause of the convention.
This action of the Sultan illustrates the sincerity of his protestations of friendship for England.The disturbances in the country are increasing, and amount almost to anarchy in many districts. The Minister of Foreign Affairs believes that the Spanish captives carried off last May have been put to death. The Spanish government claims that the 200 daily
